

EGH FALL 2018 SEMINAR SERIES

The Department of Environmental and Global Health Seminar Series is an opportunity for students and faculty to come together to learn about cutting-edge research from colleagues around the country every week. There are a few date and time discrepancies, so please make note. You can find the full schedule below.

EGH is partnering with the One Health Center for Excellence on 9/11, 10/16 and 11/13! These seminars will be an hour and a half long, and lunch will be served.

Student Seminars will feature graduate students from the department sharing their current or recent research projects.

There will be a Career Agency Panel, coinciding with the annual Southeastern Society of Toxicology conference in Gainesville, FL., on 10/25 or 10/26.
