

Karlene Mohan

MHS IN ONE HEALTH

Why did you choose the University of Florida?

After reviewing programs from multiple Universities, I was intrigued by the programs that were being offered, especially since One Health is unique to UF.

What philosophy guides you in your education?

My purpose has always been motivated by my desire to help others and so I began my education in healthcare. As I journeyed on increasing my knowledge base, I am continuously encouraged by the satisfaction that I receive from being part of a team that finds answers to patients' health issues or finding ways to resolve public health problems and lowering disease risks.

What are your career goals?

To be involved in research and education in regional and global population health.

Educational Background

Bachelors

Bachelor of Applied Science
Biomedical Science

Research Interests:

- Public health
- Human pathogens

If you could solve one environmental and/or global health problem, what would it be?

I would like to be on a team that contributes to the resolution and mitigation of the SARS-Cov2 virus and its variants.